DVM Summer Student Opportunity – May to August, 2019

Supervisors – Drs. Cate Dewey, Interim Director, One Health Institute, Dr. Jane Parmley and Katie Clow, Department of Population Medicine.

Outline of Project:

The University of Guelph is in the process of launching an exciting new initiative – the One Health Agenda. One of the primary goals of this Agenda is to prepare effective transdisciplinary graduates who are qualified to work in and ultimately lead teams to solve problems at the intersection of animal, human, and environmental health. In order to achieve this goal, several new undergraduate and graduate programs will be developed.

Job Description:

We are seeking a DVM candidate (Phase 2 completion preferred) who will work closely with One Health faculty members to assist with One Health curriculum planning and development at the undergraduate, DVM and graduate level. This will include a detailed review of One Health competencies within the curriculum of several programs on campus and preparation of background material that will inform initial planning of new courses and programs targeted towards enhancing One Health competencies of University of Guelph graduates.

The successful candidate will be eligible to participate in the Summer CORE Program with a research project within the realm of the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning. This position will be one of 2-3 other DVM/Undergraduate students working as a team for the period May to August.

Strong organizational and time management skills are an asset for this position, as well as an ability to work independently and with a team. Familiarity with and interest in One Health is also of value.

Interested Students should apply with a resume, cover letter and a copy of your transcripts to Sally Maclachlan, email: smaclach@uoguelph.ca by Monday, March 11, 2019.
