

MSc and PhD Positions in Cardiovascular Research (Biomedical Sciences).

We are recruiting competitive candidates (minimum A- average in your last 1-2 years of undergraduate study) for research on heart disease. We use a wide variety of molecular and physiologic approaches and models to study new therapies for heart disease. Our research is funded by Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada, and by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR).

For more information about our research:

<https://ovc.uoguelph.ca/biomedical-sciences/people/faculty/Tami-Martino>

<http://www.uoguelph.ca/CardiovascularResearch/Investigators/TamiMartino.html>

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/?term=tami+martino>

Contact: Dr. Tami Martino, PhD
tmartino@uoguelph.ca