3. INCIDENT REPORTING FORM The Incident Reporting Form has been updated. The current form is available through the CS website under Health & Safety Forms & Links.

4. U of G ALERT, EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION SYSTEM You may recall that last week, U of G launched its new emergency notification system: U of G Alert. The system sends registered users critical messages when an emergency happens on campus. The more ways we can reach individuals during an emergency, the better.

All U of G faculty and staff, as well as students currently on campus, are registered in the system with their uoguelph.ca email addresses. However, if someone isn’t at their desk when the alert is sent or doesn’t have their uoguelph.ca email address connected with their smart phone, they could miss the alert.

To ensure our community gets urgent information in an emergency, we need each of you to add other contact methods (e.g., personal email, cell phone number, etc.) to your U of G Alert account. You can do this by visiting uoguelph.ca/beprepared.

5. LAH CLIENT PARKING Over the past many years there have been ongoing challenges with unauthorized vehicles parking in the LA client parking spaces. As a result, parking services will no longer be providing free access to these spaces and parking meters will be added. Clients will need to be advised that metered parking will be available when they are at OVC. The parking meters do operate with an app so clients are not required to bring change.

Although maintaining free client parking would be a nice asset it is no longer possible to offer this perk.

6. BIO HAZARD SHED (BLUE BINS) Over the last several months we have had issues with boxes leaking in the bio hazard shed. In order to prevent this from occurring The Bio Hazard shed has moved from using cardboard boxes to blue bins. These bins are far more durable than the boxes and help prevent leakage.

These new blue bins will be labelled with Bio hazard labels as well as Cytotoxic labels, you can place this waste in the same bins and these go to the incinerator for disposal.

You will also notice a grey bin and these are for needles. Disposal details are attached.

If you have any questions please advise Brent Rumford, BA, MA (Leadership).
